LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

See Garnier's new ad.
No 604 was five hours late last Monday.
New School Books at Davis's Book Store.
Come to this office and see how nicely those shutter-openers work.

If any person desires a Canary Bird—a good singer—let him or her apply at this office.

John Galutia has built himself quite a neat house in north Ironton. It improves his premises greatly.

County Court adjourned last Friday. The Bellevue road matter will come up again at the December term.

Under the game law, it is now permitted to kill deer and wild turkey. Quail will come in on the fifteenth of next month.

People wanting to go to St. Louis on the 6:30 A. M. train can have the berths called for them by leaving word at the Slinger office the day before.

All members of the Ironton Baptist church are earnestly requested to be present on Saturday, 19th inst., at 2 P. M. to attend to the election of pastor. W. L. BROWN, Clerk.

The herds are running again, and we hope its patronage will grow until it becomes a well-paying institution. It is a great public convenience, and ought to be encouraged.

A heavy rainstorm deluged the earth hereabouts Saturday night, continuing until about ten o'clock Sunday. It was accompanied by heavy thunder and sharp lightning.

The Vulcan steel works at Carondelet "blew in" last Sunday morning. May it be many a day before they "blow out," it is the prayer of all who hate hard times and love prosperity.

A great many of the Valley's summer visitors have returned to their homes, most of them, we trust, to come again when next year's heated term shall have made country air desirable.

If you want a spanking good supper for a hard-time fee, go to the Academy of Music Thursday evening. The band boys, their sisters, cousins, aunts and sweethearts, will greet you with well-filled tables.

For a box of the finest peaches we have seen this year, we are indebted to Grant and Lou Tetwiler, of Poplar Bluff. The gift was most acceptable to the editor and his wife, and the taste of the delicious fruit is still sweet in our mouth.

The 2d Quarterly Meeting of the Ironton and Piedmont Circuit, M. E. church, will be held at Ironton, Mo., September 19-20. Services as follows: Quarterly Conference at 4 P. M., and preaching at night during the evening on the 19th. Preaching, Sabbath morning (20th) at 10:30 o'clock, followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper; also preaching Sabbath night.

If a few parties here could choke off the Standard, this place would have not one paper, and then there would be no more investigations published, no more expressions of opinion against wrong, but it would be "MUM, MUM." Can't somebody give us a thousand dollars to quit?—Frederick Wilson Standard.

From all which, doth it not appear, good Brother, that it requires two able-bodied men over in old Madison to be honest, and to tell the truth?

The accommodation was an hour late last Thursday evening. The engineer, at Bismarck, mistook the light from a passing lantern for the conductor's signal to "go ahead," and pulled out. The conductor was in the office receiving his orders, and when he came out was astonished to find himself minus a train. The mistake was discovered when the train got to Iron Mountain, and the engineer had to back up to Bismarck for the "left" conductor.

If you dislike the splitting of kindling-wood, or if you haven't the wood to split, or your hatchet is dull, or if you have no axe, hatchet, we are sure you will heed our advice to go to Whitworth & Sons and buy a Boss Fire Kindler. It is always ready, requires no attention, makes no cost after the purchase—and is in fact so handy and excellent that, no matter if you have a cord of rich pine in your shed, ready split, it will still pay you to buy this little labor-saver.

The citizens of Bellevue will give a basket picnic near the Masonic hall on Friday of this week. A match game of base ball will be played, a tournament run, and various amusements provided. A good string band will furnish music to the dance-loving young folks, all day and night. Everybody is cordially invited to come, and we are sure all who may go will enjoy themselves. The baskets are requested to be well-filled for dinner; the supper will be furnished by the committee.

Aug. Winkler drives—or, rather, did use to drive—a little mare that scares at railroad trains. He concluded that he would "take that out of her," and last Thursday drove her to the depot to await the coming of the down passenger. When the train came thundering in, the little mare went wild, plunged, jumped, and finally reared so that she fell over and broke the shafts. She was hastily cut out of the harness, and no serious damage was done. This is the sixth smash-up for Mr. Winkler, and once more we caution him to confine his outdoor exercise to equestrianism or, better still, pedestrianism.

This issue contains some correspondence written to the Herald before its suspension had been ascertained. We trust these correspondents will not cease their efforts with the decease of that paper, but grant the REGISTER some of their favors hereafter. We shall endeavor to make our paper a welcome visitor to every home in Iron county, and nothing tends more to bring it to the standard than readable letters from the various points within the bounds of its circulation. For these favors, friends, we cannot offer you "current coin of the realm,"—for country editors are not burdened greatly with earthly goods—but we can and will do our share toward the advancement of home interests, which concern us all alike.

The Democratic Standard notes the fact that the Ironton Herald has suspended, and then intimates that the REGISTER bought out the latter paper in order to "silence it." The truth of the matter is, for six months past the editor of this paper has been repeatedly solicited to purchase the outfit, and he did so at length with much reluctance. Bro. Smith will attest the truth of this. The Standard says, in effect, that there are those who want it "silenced" in order that certain of Madison county's officials and politicians may do wrong and swindle the people with impunity. We won't mix in that fight, but the Standard means to intimate that the cause here effected or affected the fate of the Herald, it talks beyond its ken.

Bert Moser—whose name is not new to these columns, if he is but four years old—came near having a picnic last Thursday. He got hold of a can of coal oil which the grocer had delivered and placed on the porch, in the rear of the house, because of the temporary absence of the family. Bert got home first, saw the oil, and planned his campaign on the instant. He procured a box of matches, poured some of the oil on a board which serves as a step to the porch, and started a fire. It didn't blaze up quite to the height of his ambition, and therefore he turned a stream from the can into the flame. If a near neighbor hadn't seen him, rushed over and grabbed him, just in time, Bert would probably have put his angel plumage on, and had a couple of houses for his funeral pyre, so to speak.

The Herald's subscription list has been added to the REGISTER's, and all money due the former paper will be paid to us. On the other hand, we will fill out all unexpired terms. Our new subscribers will note the date opposite their names attached to their papers; this date denotes the time to which the subscription has been paid. Thus: John Anderson Oct. 25, 85 has paid for his paper to October 6, 1885, while William Smith Feb. 28, 85 is in arrears since that date. Parties desiring their papers discontinued will please notify us on expiration of term; those in arrears, when they order us to discontinue, sending their papers will please not forget to send, at the same time, the amounts due. This caution we know is, as a rule, not necessary to delinquent subscribers, but occasionally a black sheep gets into the fold, and it is for him this portion of this notice is written.

The colored folk often see ghosts on and about the bridge whereon Henry Caldwell was hung by a mob three years ago for the crime of attempted rape. It's a mighty brave tharkey that will cross that bridge "all alone by himself," after midnight. When he is compelled to travel that way in the dark, he secures a companion at whatever cost. Last Sunday evening, a colored "kid," living on Zion's still, and who is just beginning to have an eye for "die gals," escorted his inamorata to her home from church, across the Stout's Creek where it is spanned by the dreaded bridge. The trip out was all right, for he had several companions beside the "gal," and as he expected some of them to return with him, he took care for the future. But he was scared out of his boots when he learned that he would have to take the back track alone. Finally he induced Henry Boyd, with the proffer of a dime, to accompany him, and the twain came safely into town. If any of the colored ladies want to know the particulars, we refer them to Henry.

The picnic on the 13th inst. at Coad's Hollow came off according to notice, although the elements were entirely unpropitious, and with anybody else but Von Kleke and Safford to fight, would have come off victorious, as they whitewashed the Von's, the first six innings with no end of runs for themselves and fouls for the others. By high noon the Von's took the bat, and never let up until darkness ended the game. The P. K. Cornet Band did itself and the occasion full justice and not a few were the compliments paid them by the visitors from the City of St. Louis, and in turn the visitors from that city gave the country cousins some excellent vocal music. The refreshment stands were presided over by gentlemen who knew their business, and did it well. The ladies, of whom there were many on the ground, added much to the occasion. Our visitors enjoyed themselves as only city people know how to enjoy a day in the country, and their behavior was most excellent, and we are only sorry that we cannot say as much for a very few of our own citizens, and trust our visitors will not judge us all by the unruly few.

There were in attendance about 500 people from the city who came down on special train Saturday night, and departed at 8 o'clock Sunday evening.

WANTED—A good girl at W. G. Dilts's, Pilot Knob. Good wages.

A Fatal Accident.
Last Tuesday, Tobias Orr, son of W. J. Orr, who lives on Marble Creek, was accidentally shot, and died the following Saturday. He had been out hunting, and when he came into the yard fronting the house, he set his loaded gun against the trunk of a cherry-tree standing there. From some cause the gun fell, the hammer striking a stone, and a large load of buck-shot was discharged into the thigh of the unfortunate man. Though no bone was broken, the flesh was stripped from the limb. Medical attendance was had as soon as a messenger could reach Acadia—the nearest point. Dr. Berryman attended at once, dressed the wound, and did all that medical skill could accomplish to alleviate the patient's suffering. Though the main artery was not severed, he expressed his belief that the wounded man had little chance for recovery. He called Dr. Farrar to his assistance Thursday, but their efforts were of no avail, and the spirit of the unfortunate Saturday "re- turned to the land of the living."

Mr. Orr was a married man, about 36 years of age, and was an invalid wife, an aged father and mother, and many relatives and friends to mourn his untimely decease. These all have the earnest sympathy of the neighborhood in the hour of their dire affliction. Having been of a genial, cheerful nature, and possessed with the kindest feelings toward his friends and acquaintances, the memory of the deceased will dwell long with them. May he rest in peace!

Notice to Subscribers to the "Herald." All amounts due for subscriptions will be paid to Mr. Ake of the REGISTER, and he will fill out all unexpired terms.

J. H. SMITH.

FOR SALE—I have a good Mare and Two-Horse Wagon for sale cheap. JAMES WELCH, Ironton, Mo.

Timber Stealing.

We copy from and cordially endorse the following article in last week's Piedmont Leader. It will apply equally well to certain parties in Iron county, and, as in Wayne, some land-owners are now taking steps to bring the guilty parties to justice. Some lands in which we are interested have been stolen bare of their timber, we have been informed; but the thieves may rest assured the end is not yet.

The government has taken severely hold of timber stealers and intends to prosecute every man caught in the act, or on whom it can be proven. This action will now be followed up by private citizens, and it is high time that a step in that direction should be taken. From what we can learn numerous parties in this county have been carrying on the practice of taking timber off lands that do not belong to them for years. In fact this abominable business of stealing pine timber, cord-wood and the timber, has come to be a virtue in the eyes of our land holders. No one has any more right to cut pine timber, rice, or cord-wood off non-resident lands than to steal corn out of his neighbor's crib. Let those who have been engaged in this piece of rascality look out. The old saying "do as you please" style has seen its best day in Wayne county. We understand that some arrests will be made in the near future, but who the parties are we are not able to say at present. But we do say that such depredations should be suppressed, it makes no difference who commits them.

DIED—At his home in Bellevue, Mo., JOSEPH L. STEPHENS, at one o'clock this (Wednesday) morning, aged about 70 years. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 9 o'clock, from the residence, and the remains be interred in the Caledonia cemetery.

Tunnel Driftings.

The "Drifter," out of respect to himself and his friends, will retire from the "Tunnel Driftings" column. That is, as far as the Pilot Knob items are concerned. He has many reasons for so doing, and will give only a few. In the first place, a few of the "Drifter's" friends are being abused and insulted by men who accuse parties that are employed on the hill with being the "Drifter." I am fully bound to protect them, and the only safe way to leave them alone is to leave the "Drifter" column. That is, as far as the Pilot Knob items are concerned. The Copper Prince Company at Bibbe, Arizona, is putting up smelting works which are nearly ready to run.

The number of Bessemer converters erected in Great Britain, decreased to 102 in 1884, from 113 in the preceding year.

The mines of Butte, Montana, are now producing ore at the rate of 2,000 tons per day.

Thirty-five tons of copper were recently shipped from Nogales to Liverpool, via New Orleans, by the Copper King company of Canaan.

The Huron mine, Michigan, produced 102 tons 400 pounds of copper in August.

Five specimens of copper float have been found on the Canon, Texas, near New Orleans, by the Copper King company of Canaan.

The Calumet and Hecla product for the month of August was 2,575 tons 1,285 pounds.

The August product of the Franklin mine was 188 tons 1,000 pounds of copper.

During the month of July 400 tons of pig iron were received at the port of Chicago.

The Gogebic region of Lake Superior is proving to be very rich in iron.

There were 596 mines in operation in Sweden in 1883, employing between 6,000 and 7,000 miners.

Syndicate Mining Company, of California, has declared a dividend of twenty-five cents a share, amounting to $10,000.

The Silver King Company, of Arizona, has declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable Sept. 15th, aggregating $25,000.

Four mines in the San Juan, Col., are producing nearly $25,000 worth of ore per day.

July's product of bullion from the Roper mine, of Michigan, was $2,650. This was from the stamps alone.

A company at Lake Tindler, Michigan, has secured important mining property in the Silver and Rabbit Mountain regions of Canada.

"Blood-food" is the suggestive name often given to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, because of its blood-cleansing qualities.

Mr. Garvey's Say.

PILOT KNOB, Sept. 10th, 1885. The many friends and acquaintances of Michael Carey will be happy to know, while the few cowardly enemies who have been trembling with fear may go to their rest assured of no harm, for it was not with a desire for revenge that prompted our hero to defy the odds and walk boldly through the town; but he was guarded by the true, manly love and devotion for his young wife that brought him back to her side to enjoy the comfort and happiness of her cherished presence. He goes to-morrow to accept a situation in the coal mines, where his companion will join him ere the snow begins to fall. Mike goes with the well wishes of all, and may success crown his every effort to prosperity's height.

HUGH GARVEY.

From Middlebrook.

MIDDLEBROOK, Sept. 13th, 1885. Commercial men took the town last week. Mrs. M. Seitz visited her daughter, Mrs. A. D. Boss, at Bismarck, Thursday.

Our Sunday School is progressing. All attend, both old and young.

Mrs. Chas. Liggett, wife of the proprietor of the Hotel de Bismarck, presented her husband with a beautiful diamond ring.

Butcher business has had a rise in Middlebrook. Herr Brassel has succeeded in freezing the smaller fry out. Reef will go up to the old price again, 15c per pound for neck.

Mr. M. Seitz would like to know who has the largest pumpkins in Ironton raised from the seed presented by the Bismarck man last fall. He has one that will weigh 145 pounds and not yet done growing. Come, gentlemen, let's hear who can beat it or come up to 135 pounds.

F. Schriber and H. C. Cole were in Ironton Monday.

Mr. Chas. Hauck, of F. B. Hauck & Co., St. Louis, visited his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Seitz, Friday.

Five-room Cottage to rent. Fine Milch-Cow for sale. Apply to A. C. LINDSAY.

Iron Mountain News.

Mrs. Delano is stopping for a while at the hotel.

We had a fine rain up this way Sunday morning, thank you.

Mr. Ellis P. Cayce went to St. Louis today, on business for the company.

How would it do to have a monthly institute this winter? Let us hear from the teachers.

"Uncle Jerry" says it isn't so, but everybody else thinks it is. Don't tell him I said so, though.

A party of young folks from Bellevue came a few days ago, and had a "rack- et" at the dance.

Mr. Geo. Vollath and family went to French Village last Saturday to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. Sam Sizemore comes to the front this week, and announces the advent of a fine little boy.

Mrs. Delahay returned to her home at Hot Springs on Saturday, after spending a few days on a pleasant visit here.

East Willie Shaw left last Saturday for a few months' sojourn with his aunt at Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. A. J. Sypher has gone east to visit his brother, and to look after the patent on his new steam drill.

The company are sinking a shaft, four by eight feet, on the east side of the Mountain. It will be sunk a depth of 300 feet.

Three hose and one separator are running, but how long is only a question of suitable weather. We hope, however, that it will be for some time yet.

The Public School opened last Monday morning with an enrollment of 134 pupils; but was increased during the week to about 155. The outlook for a successful term is promising.

All the boarders at the hotel, who were residents of the city, pulled up stakes and went home last Saturday evening. Notwithstanding this fact, the people and the business of our place will move on in the usual tenor of their way.

Thirteen wagons have been engaged during the greater part of the past week, hauling paving blocks from the Schneider granite quarry to this point for shipment. Business is beginning to look up a little with our friends over against Buford's mountain.

Your correspondent was out to the Quarry a few days ago, and found things moving along out there in a very encouraging manner. The Syntite Granite Company got a new horse not long since, and the boys are feeling in good spirits over the prospect for the future.

Our friends of the Lutheran church have now under course of erection, a right handsome little church at this place, and when completed, it will be a very attractive addition to the town. It will cost about eleven or twelve hundred dollars, and will be dedicated about the first of October.

On last Friday it was reported Jerry Thurman and John Murray got into a dispute, when Thurman struck Murray with a wagon standard. This was becoming a little more familiar than propriety would admit, and so Murray returned the compliment by going into Thurman with a knife. The knife was small, and Jerry being on the run, not much damage was done. One little tip was sent in under the right shoulder blade, but not deep enough to cause alarm. The rumour spread about nothing, it seems, and no further trouble is anticipated.

One thought has forced itself upon my mind which I will send along with the rest. There has been a strong light going on for some time between the liquor dealing population and the prohibitionists. The churches also come in and array themselves against the view of selling liquors and getting drunk. Moreover, it is understood that religious and church-going people ought to be good and set an example for the guidance of the young. But do they always do this? It is not for me to say whether prohibition shall be the law or not, or whether the church shall control men's wills in the affairs of this life. But what we should look for is results. The saloons make no attempt to establish a code of morals, but the church does. It can not be proven that the saloons were here, in any respect, a benefit to mankind, while it is safe to say the church has. And it is not until the church robes herself of her own power, does she fail to be effective in doing good. But while this may be true, we can draw a strange comparison. The town of Bellevue is a town of churches, and the town of Bismarck is a town of saloons, yet property is safer in Bismarck than in Bellevue. Why is this? The above may be a little mixed, doubtless is, but when that question is answered, perhaps it may give the key to a better understanding of what goes before.

Mr. T. P. Pigg, of the Farmington News, and Prof. H. A. Simonds of the Carlton Institute, spent last Saturday at this place.

NESTOR.

Annapolis News.

ANNAPOLIS, Mo., Sept. 13th, 1885. Ed. Register.—It has been quite a while since we have given you our items, but, hope we have not been forgotten.

We are having lovely weather, and business good. There seems to be more lumber shipped from this point at present than was ever known before, and other business is picking up accordingly.

Mr. Platte Overton, from Council Bluffs, has located here, built himself a neat little cottage, and is engaged in buying and shipping lumber for A. Overton & Co., of Council Bluffs.

Geo. Cooley went to Bismarck last week looking after the interests of his brother's health.

Annapolis is very gloomy again, "in society circles." The girls having all gone to school. Misses Lillie and Fannie Towl attend the Woodlawn College, at Jennings, Mo., Miss Hattie May some high school in St. Louis, and the Misses Cammie and Annie Clarkson, Anna College, at Greenville, Ill. We do not know of any small town but what the disappearance of five of their belles would cast a shadow over.

Miss Addie Russell and Miss Laura White, of Sabula, Mo., were in our town last Wednesday.

C. G. Miller, formerly of this place, but now R. agent at Alleville, Mo., was visiting friends here last week.

John Peters, of Walnut Ridge, Ark., was in town Thursday.

Prosecuting attorney, J. B. Walker, of Ironton, and L. O. Needer, Centerville, were here on legal business Saturday.

We had a hard rain this morning. John Towl comes home every Sunday from the saw mill and timber region.

Yours, LOUIS.

FOR SALE—A desirable residence in Ironton, centrally located. Apply to G. B. Nail Ironton, Mo. The rental will yield 15 per cent. on the investment.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you.

From Goodland.

Ed. Register.—A lawsuit was to come off last Tuesday before Esq. McMahon, Adam Henderson plaintiff; and three of the Messrs. Copeland defendants; but Rumor has it that the defendants, after appearing for trial, mounted their horses and rode away: the Esquire commanded the constable to arrest them. The constable with his posse of deputies, made the attempt, but failed on account of some unknown cause, and at last accounts the parties were at large.

Our school has taken a two-weeks' vacation. The farmers are busily sowing wheat.

Birum has found the place where that large deer resorts to harden his horns, and says, with the old adage, "He's my meat."

One of our citizens, H. Lathim, was arrested this week and taken over into Reynolds county for trial—Mr. Jas. Smith, plaintiff.

Mrs. J. L. Midgett is slowly recovering from a long siege of typhoid fever, for which Dr. Cavender, of Dent county, deserves great credit. He is very prompt in business, and has a large practice, and is, so far as known, giving universal satisfaction.

Mrs. Samuel Brooks is now confined to her bed with prolapsus uteri, which produces intense suffering. We hope the proper remedies may soon be applied which may produce a speedy recovery.

Miss Mattie Adams is now suffering from acute inflammation of left lung, such as passive hemorrhage, &c. We hope she may soon be able to come out in the midst of her many friends, with rosy cheeks. Her school is a complete success, so reports say.

We are deeply pained to have to say farewell to the Herald. We speak the sentiments of each member of our family when we say, may speedy success and happiness crown Ye Editor; wherever his light may be cast, may he ever be a bright, shining light to society.

TOBIAS.

If You Want
A home from which a living can be made, and within fifteen minutes' walk of Acadia College, where your children can be educated, and near enough to hear every church bell in the Valley, call on the undersigned. The place contains 120 acres of land, good fruit, good water, fair buildings and out houses. Any person desiring of a pleasant, healthy place to spend the summer, and eat his own fruit and vegetables, will find this place just what he wants. Will be sold cheap, and possession given at once.

Also, 100 acres one and one-half mile from Acadia, where the owner has a fine cultivation
